Jack Jones said that he has heard from a counselor at Minuteman Senior Services that the elevators at Minuteman Towers are nonoperational again after recently being put back into service. A few people with disabilities live in this sixth story building.

Cynthia discussed having Marybeth Gilchrist work with the Commission to develop a list of words that are offensive to persons with disabilities and to suggest more appropriate words that can be used that are not offensive.

Marybeth Gilchrist expressed her concern about the angle of the curb cut at Pleasant St. and Mass. Ave. that results in a visually impaired person walking outside the crosswalk.

Kerrie said that the Arlington Police Department is only one of four municipalities in the State to have received a certification indicating their knowledge and training on dealing with individuals with mental health issues.
